

The Washington D.C. Society of the Archaeological Institute of America is pleased to begin accepting applications for the 2022 Elisabeth Craft Student Travel Fellowship. This year, two students will be awarded $1,500*, which helps defray the cost of attendance at the Annual Meeting of the Archaeological Institute of America, to be held in New Orleans, Louisiana, from 5-8 January 2023 (www.archaeological.org/programs/professionals/annual-meeting/).

Eligible undergraduate and graduate students should be currently enrolled at institutions in the greater Washington area (DC-MD-VA).

- For application and instructions, visit: www.dcaia.org/travel-fellowship.
- All application materials must be received by Friday November 4, 2022.

* $1,500 award amount is based upon physical travel to conference location. If applicant wishes to attend the conference remotely, award amount will be adjusted.

Photograph licensed under Creative Commons, Photographer: B. Metcalf

---

For more information, please contact:

Dr. Alexander Nagel, nagela@si.edu

Smithsonian Institution, National Museum of Natural History
Residential Research Associate, Department of Anthropology
10th St. & Constitution Ave. NW, Washington D.C. 20560