

2026 Elisabeth Craft Student Travel Fellowship

The Washington D.C. Society of the Archaeological Institute of America is pleased to begin accepting applications for the 2026 Elisabeth Craft Student Travel Fellowship. This year, we hope to award $750 to one undergraduate and one graduate student to help defray the cost of attending the Annual Meeting of the Archaeological Institute of America, to be held in Boston, MA from January 7-10, 2027 (www.archaeological.org/programs/professionals/annual-meeting/).

Eligible undergraduate and graduate students should be currently enrolled at institutions in the greater Washington area (DC-MD-VA).

- For application and instructions, visit: www.dcaia.org/travel-fellowship.
- Application materials must be sent to Faya Causey by Friday, October 30, 2026, 6 pm.

* The award amount is based upon physical travel to the conference location. If applicants wish to attend the conference remotely, the award amount will be adjusted.

For more information, please contact:

Dr. Faya Causey, fayacausey@gmail.com